The International Myeloma Society (IMS) is a professional, scientific and medical society established to bring together clinical and experimental scientists involved in the study of myeloma. The IMS accomplishes its mission by providing educational forums in the form of conferences, symposia, and workshops conducted around the globe.

The goal for the Educational Symposia Series is to share with local hematologists the state of the art on diagnosis, monitoring and treatment of Plasma Cell malignancies paying special attention to the current practice in the local countries and the opportunities for improvement. Our purpose is also to offer the opportunity for social interaction in order to establish potential collaborations with the invited speakers including the possibility of visiting their institutions or establishing fellowship programs.

The program will include lectures plus roundtable discussions around the most hot and controversial topics. The format of the roundtable will include the counterpoint opinion of the invited speakers with the local hematologists based on both challenging questions and clinical cases.

Local program chair(s) are selected to help to ensure the content will address the needs from the regions/countries in which the programs are held.
