Domaille Engineering Completes Acquisition of Tech Manufacturing

Rochester, MN, February 6, 2018 – Domaille Engineering LLC, an Onward Capital and Thompson Street Capital Partners portfolio company, has acquired Tech Manufacturing LLC. Tech Manufacturing is a leading provider of complex 5-axis structural components and sub-assemblies for the Aerospace and Defense markets.

“We are thrilled to have Tech Manufacturing join the Domaille family. The resulting combination of talent and resources allows us to deliver a broader solution to our customers, which provides for excellent growth opportunity.” said Tim Kanne, President of Domaille Engineering.

The transition of ownership will be seamless for our customers as our combined management team will continue to focus on world class customer service and creative engineering solutions as both companies have been doing for over 25 years.

“Onward Capital is extremely pleased to add Tech Manufacturing to the Domaille portfolio. With this combination we will continue to seek complementary acquisition opportunities for the combined platform.” said Marcus George, Partner at Onward Capital.
