CIPS

Certified International Property Specialist

International Real Estate Opportunities are Everywhere

Global investors and foreign born buyers continue to view the United States as the most stable and secure destination for real estate investment, and U.S. residents wishing to invest or retire in foreign markets is increasing. No matter which international audience you cater to, the Certified International Property Specialist (CIPS) designation will provide you with the knowledge, research, network and tools to globalize your business.

What is a CIPS?

A Certified International Property Specialist (CIPS) designee has undergone specialized training to complete international transactions seamlessly and with reduced risk. The CIPS designation is the only international designation recognized by the National Association of REALTORS®. Only REALTORS® who have completed the coursework and demonstrated considerable experience in international business can call themselves a CIPS designee, and use the name and logo.

Become a CIPS Designee

Complete two core courses, three elective courses, submit the designation application demonstrating a minimum of 100 points of international experience and submit payment for a one-time application fee and yearly CIPS dues.

Courses are available in classroom and online and are valid for three years. Courses with underline are delivered classroom style by Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Learning Network Services, and also offered as web-based training at a reduced tuition through LearnCenter REsource.
